Points.

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—The death list of the cyclone in this city is easily 200. The property loss is conservatively estimated at $30,000,000. In the adjoining towns and their respective localities, of East St. Louis, Centralia, Breckenridge, Vandalia, Mount Vernon and Mexico, Mo., there are 327 persons dead. The property damage of these six towns is fully $5,000,000. Thus the cyclone left as ghastly souvenirs of its visit to this locality an aggregate of 527 persons dead, $35,000,000 worth of property in ruins, and fully 700 persons with bodies torn and mangled but still clinging to life.

The city, that portion of it that felt the greatest force of the storm, presents a scene of complete ruin. Structures that were built to stand a century are merely great, shapeless piles of collapsed masonry. In addition to the wind came the two rival destroyers, fire and water. The former sprung up in a dozen places and from the buildings that had been converted into kindling by the wind, and a feature of horror was added by the fact that many persons burned to death as their homes were consumed. Then came the rain in overwhelming sheets of water that made life for those exposed in the streets to the deluge little better than death in the ruins.

In the vast hospital here were 450 patients. After the cyclone had partly demolished the hospital structure, some were killed and scores of other patients who had taken their pain-racked bodies there for relief were found to have received additional pains that they, last of all, were able to bear. Convention Hall and the Four Courts were in the path of the cloud as it passed from the city hospital toward the river. Convention Hall lost a part of the roof at the eastern end, and the east end was punctured in several places by flying missiles and sustained some derangement of the interior. A section of the brick wall of the jail went down and the prisoners were panic-stricken, but none escaped.

The loss along the river is enormous, and the death list of this great disaster may be swelled as the fate of vessels now in doubt is settled.

Great as is this city's misfortune, it has been quickly realized that she has a sister sufferer in East St. Louis, and already solicitous inquiries are made here concerning the situation across the river. The loss in East St. Louis is fully 250 dead and 300 injured, and the property damage also is heavy. Fire alone in East St. Louis did $500,000 damage. In the various other towns where there have been loss of life and destruction of property, the disasters which ordinarily would startle are merely ghastly incidents of the great horror that has devastated this city and East St. Louis.

It was along the river front that the greatest fury of the storm was spent, and evidence of the fierceness of elemental onslaught are found on every hand. For miles up and down the levee the banks of the Mississippi are strewn with the wreckage of what were magnificent floating palaces, ponderous coal barges, and fleets of small craft, to say nothing of the great warehouses, elevators, machine shops, countless store buildings and dwellings, and the gigantic Eads bridge.

Of all the craft that lined the river for miles, but one remains to tell the story of the disaster. It hung steadily to its moorings throughout. When the tornado struck the river the light of day vanished in a moment and those at work on the levee could barely discern the forms of the steamers as one after another pitched and tossed and finally with a crash was blown out into the dark waters and disappeared. The scene was one of wild uncertainty and chaos. No one knew whither to flee for safety from the fury of the storm.

The steamer J. J. Odell of the Illinois River Packet Line was blown from its wharf at the foot of Morgan street, crashed into the second pier of the Eads bridge, and sank. Her boilers blew up before she disappeared. She had a crew of twelve and three women passengers besides her captain, George Townsend. Three of her crew, Jack Morrissey, Pat Milan, and a man named Moore, reached land safely. Three others of the crew clung to the pier and made their way up to the bridge proper.

There is no way of estimating the number of lives lost on the river craft that happened to be near when the cyclone came. Hundreds of barges were moored all along the river bank. In some instances as many as ten and twelve persons were on board when the anchorage gave way under the terrible strain. Men were blown into the water, the barges in the river turned, and the destruction of life will be large. Several boats were jerked from their moorings and carried far down the river.

When darkness temporarily interrupted the search for storm victims 15 people were known to be dead on both sides of the river, and although the complete dead list will never be known it is believed that it will approximate 400 in the two cities. The number of the injured is even larger, and many of the maimed cannot survive. The property loss will reach well into the millions, but insurance people, firemen, and police, refuse even to hazard a guess at accurate figures. The uncertainty regarding the loss of life and property is mainly due to the wide extent of the havoc wrought by the storm.

The miles of wrecked buildings as yet unexplored, and the numerous collapsed factories, toward the investigation of which little progress has been made, may hide almost any number of bodies, as the police have been unable to secure anything like an accurate list of the missing.

Colonel Wetmore, manager of the Liggett & Meyer tobacco plant, which was wrecked, estimates the entire property damage at $25,000,000, which will be, he says, almost a total loss, owing to the lack of cyclone insurance. Other estimates range from $15,000,000 to $30,000,000, but the majority of these are close to that made by Colonel Wetmore.

Martial law has not been declared at East St. Louis, and it will not be unless conditions change. Governor Altgeld has so decided. However, two companies of the Illinois National Guard have been ordered under arms and directed to proceed to that city at once. The soldiers will act under the direction of the mayor of the city and do police duty. Early yesterday morning it became apparent that the local police could not protect the lives and property of the citizens of East St. Louis. Hordes of thieves and thugs from all over the country began to swarm into the city, attracted by the opportunities offered for plunder and robbery.

Following is a list of dead and injured so far as known: Sophie Demartina, Robert Wilson, Katie Claypool, Charles Nee, William Winkler Bush, Max Weiss, Josephine Martin, Wallace Bradshaw, Jones, Frank Fisher, Julius Galt, Booker Epstein, Bornstein, Fred Zimmers, unknown child, about 5 years old, J. AT EAST ST. LOUIS.

Fatalities Here Reach Three Hundred—Scores Buried in the Ruins.

East St. Louis, Ill., May 29.—East St. Louis is in ruin. The cyclone which swept down upon the city Wednesday night obliterated block after block of business houses and dwellings and left behind in its red trail of death scores of human beings buried beneath the walls of flattened buildings or crushed to death in the streets by the flying debris. The improvised morgues and hospitals are fairly choked with dead, some crushed and battered out of all human shape, and through them flows a steady stream of hysterical women and grim-faced men, looking for their missing ones.

It is almost impossible to make an accurate estimate of those killed. At the various morgues, and at St. Mary's hospital, there are fifty-six. Six are in the Big Four freight-house ruins. How many more there are scattered about the city in private houses it is impossible to tell, but a conservative estimate would place the total number at least 200. The scene is simply appalling. From the river bank to the National stock yards, a distance of over a mile, scarcely a building is left standing.

The greatest slaughter was done on the island, so called. Here were located the Vandalia freight-house and general office, the river boats' warehouses, and humble abodes of working men. Nothing is left standing. The places where formerly houses and freight depots stood were literally swept by the fury of the storm. In the Vandalia general office alone there were from twenty to twenty-five killed, the bodies of some of whom are still buried beneath the broken rafters and bricks.

The monetary loss cannot be estimated, but it will run up into the millions.

The dead bodies recovered: J. E. Keene, Vandalia railway; Dr. C. E. Neall, dentist; Mrs. Richey; Joe Frank; Joe Mitchell; Miles Mitchell; Charles Carroll, barber; John Kent; Mrs. Scott Haywood; Frank Rose; Ed Kavanaugh; Jacob Kurtz, Vincennes, Ind.; Mrs. Clendenning; Mrs. Bruce; Mrs. Emma Sullivan; Robert Bland; John Reamer; Charles Maltz; William Suber; Henry Winterman; Anderson; Palmsey; Miss Conley; Mrs. Slide; flagman of Air line, name unknown; John Hayes; Mrs. William Hayes; Mrs. Pat Bean; unknown boy.

The missing: Eddie Bland, supposed to be under wreck of Vandalia depot; City Clerk Jerry Kain, Frank Bland, Frank McCormick, Albert Volkman, Earl Keene, Mike Kildav, W. E. Kiefer, Alvin Mate, Will Mufrey, Dan Kelly, George Romer, W. Frelink, W. Hanford, Mr. Martell, an Irish servant girl at Martell house, George Woods, clerk in Vandalia office; two children of Mrs. Horace Trump of Litchfield, Ill.; J. A. Porter, Broughton, Ill.; unknown traveling man, supposed to be connected with the Cincinnati Cigar company; John Valentine, City Collector David S. Sage and wife, Philip Strickler, Jr., and mother; Judge Faulk of Vandalia, Ill.; Mrs. M. Martell, all of the boarders at the Martell house, except Judge Hope of Alton, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. John Ifays, Will Hays, all boarders, estimated at sixteen, at Tremont house; William Mitchell, Irene Clendenen, twenty unidentified bodies at Bridge tower, six unidentified bodies at Electric railway station, two of whom are supposed to be William Sullivan and wife; Mrs. John Reed, Patrick Dean and family of six, John Bucharz, Edward O'Brien and John Breen, two boarders at Stacy's boarding house; Ida Gladue, Mrs. Roof, Albert Volkman, Joseph Mitchell, John Sullivan, William Rickey, unknown man on Collinsville avenue, son of Mrs. Ira Kent, Henry Wintermann, Winstanley Park, Jacob Korth, William Stickney, arm broken; John Farrell, both legs broken; John Roof, John Sullivan M. Mitchell, Mrs. Kent, Wendelin Hushler, Edward McCormac, Mrs. Warner and two children of Litchfield, Ill.; Mrs. Ellen Hennessy, Mrs. Lizzie Haertzel, Marie Mitchell, Louis Johnson, John Stock, Charles Kenny, Joe Duffy, William Murray, Miss Mamie Evans, Fred Weide, Mrs. Horace Krump, H. H. Williams, J. C. Hull, two unknown men at 1428 Menard avenue, unknown woman and child, between Lafayette and Emmitt streets, in alley which was clasped in woman's arms; Fred Bennell, 1830 South 13th street, unknown boy, apparently 17 years old, 1830 South 13th street.

Following is a list of the injured: Pedro O'Connor, aged 11, run over by coal train driven by wind, leg crushed. Following laborers working on the four-story iron frame at Liggett & Myers' cigarette factory were injured: Patrick Tracey, 45, right hand torn off; James Lahey, 38, hurt internally; John Toomey, 50, internally injured; Joseph Boyd, 36, leg broken, spine hurt; Mike Lloyd, 45, internally injured; Patrick Ruegg, 48, internally injured; James Lenahan, 35, internally injured; Michael Mulroon, internally injured; James Leinthus, 28, eyes put out and scalp wounds; Thomas Griffith, 23, hip injured; David Lewis, 35, head and body cut; Caroline Rolland, internally; Albert Plutz, leg and ankle broken; Albert Schultze, leg and arm broken.

At city hospital: Harry Ottosson, badly cut and bruised; Laurence Childress, badly cut and bruised; Mary Finan, badly cut and bruised; sixty paupers at hospital more or less injured.

Among the injured are: John Bewiger, houseman at St. Clair hotel; H. C. Hall, engineer, Baltimore & Ohio; Mrs. Ellen Hennessy, 212 St. Louis avenue; chest crushed; will die; W. H. Williams, assistant superintendent of St. Louis & East St. Louis electric railway; right arm broken, head cut and internally injured; will probably die; Patrick Kennedy, internal injuries; D. Bender, clerk Big Four; internal injuries; J. H. Buchanan, Howell, Ind.; internal injuries; K. H. McMann, head cut; T. P. Elam, blacksmith on the Vandalia road; internal injuries; W. C. Van Meeder, Baltimore & Ohio road; timber through thigh; will probably die; William Hopo, Big Four; legs badly fractured; Mayor H. F. Bader, badly injured about the head by flying timbers; Mrs. Horace Trump, internal injuries; Bert Farrell, both legs cut off at thigh; Dan Kelly, crushed by falling building; Joe Duffy, same; William Price, same; Baby Brower, 500 West Broadway; leg broken; John Block, internal injuries; Joseph Reed, internal injuries; Ambrose Hormon, both legs and left arm broken; James Ramsey, same; four members of Armour family; Frank Roff, Venice, Ill.; internal injuries. Vail, arm broken; Maggie Herbert, arm broken; Florence Reilly, telegraph operator, bruised; Josie Galen, slightly injured; C. E. O'Brien, electrician, arm cut; Roy D. Moore, railway clerk, right arm broken; Mathew Quirk, slightly injured; Nancy Pierce, a girl, wrist dislocated, bruised; Albert Fierce, boy, injured in breast and shoulders; Frank Barr, cut in head, shoulders and leg hurt; Robert Bland, badly hurt; Edward Bland, bruised; John Malloy, left shoulder and side injured; Thomas Dougherty, head and hip injured; Jos. Crean, slightly injured; Al Tucker, shoulder and head hurt; Charles Kinney, hip dislocated; Mr. Givens, railway clerk, slightly injured; John McMahon, rib fractured, shoulder blade broken and back hurt; Patrick Trainer, gash in back of head, delirious; Deamie Bandy, feet hurt; Joseph Burke, leg broken; Peter Harris, left arm broken.

The missing: City Clerk Jerry Kane; Eddy Bland, supposed to be under ruins Vandalia depot; Frank Bland, same; Frank McCormick, same; Albert Volkman, same; Carl Keene, same; George Wods, same; Mike Riddlea, same; W. E. Keefers, same; Lavin Mote, same; Will Murray, same; Dan Kelley, same; George Romer, same; W. E. Frelink, same; Link Handford, same.

OUTSIDE OF ST. LOUIS.

Many Towns Are the Scenes of Death and Desolation.

Carlisle, Ill., May 29.—A cyclone, with all its frightful features, with its funnel-shaped cloud, its midnight darkness, and its death-dealing wind, almost removed the town of New Baden, this county, off the earth Wednesday evening. New Baden has a population of nearly 300 people, and perhaps fifty houses. Only fifteen houses are left standing, thus rendering 200 people homeless. The property destroyed is valued at not less than $100,000.

Following is a list of the victims: Peter Krause, aged 60; Mrs. Krause, aged 50; Patrick Meyer, aged 50; Minnie Rust, aged 52; Adam Peters, aged 22; John Ferguson, aged 10; unknown man; Jacob Malebrich, aged 50. The injured are: Emma Krause, aged 23 years; arm broken and face bruised; Bernard Speiser, aged 35; probably fatally injured; Jacob Backman, aged 50; Mrs. Jacob Backman, aged 40; seriously hurt and may die; Lizzie Stoelz, aged 38; arm broken and bruises; Philip Bassler and wife, each a broken leg; Louisa Speiser, bruised leg; John Born and wife, each badly hurt; William Rust, aged 55; will probably die; William Hunt, internal injuries; George Hurst, aged 75; bruised about the body; Peter Johnson, aged 55; fatal injuries.

The severe wind lasted only a short time, some say only a minute, yet in this short space of time the devastation was complete. The tornado had spent its fury on the unfortunate village, leaving a path several hundred feet wide strewn with dead and maimed people, demolished dwellings, broken furniture, and thousands of other articles. It is feared that the story is not half told as to the number of the dead. Many may yet be covered in the remains of buildings or possibly blown away entirely.

PENNSYLVANIA IN LINE.

Cyclone Strikes at Columbia, Wrecking an Iron Mill and Killing a Man.

Columbia, Pa., May 29.—A cyclone struck this town Thursday afternoon, wrecking the puddling department of the Columbia mill. About twenty men were buried in the ruins. The dead: Isaac Haverstock.

Of the others injured the most serious were: Percy Dray, Walter Brenner, Reinhold Helbe, Jacob Nees, James Brown, George Moore, Bert Kiscaden, Charles Ramer, Percy Siegler.

Great damage was also done in this county in the track of the storm, which lasted but a few moments.

Norristown, Pa., May 29.—The coroner has been notified that two men were killed at Jarrettstown, near here. At Hatboro considerable damage was done. Mills and other buildings were unroofed and sixteen barns were destroyed. John Walters, a Reading railroad section hand, was killed in a barn, where he had sought shelter.

Trenton, N. J., May 29.—At Whitehorse, south of Tofton, a barn was blown down, and a man named Duffy, who had sought shelter there, was badly hurt. The storm went on to Allentown, Monmouth county, where a number of small buildings were wrecked and several persons injured.

Trenton, N. J., May 29.—At Langhorne, Pa., George Wenterk was killed by the destruction of a barn in which he had sought shelter. Near Whitehorse George Newell, while driving a wagon, was caught by the tornado and fatally hurt. Harrison Dillon, colored, was also badly injured.

Mascoutah in Its Path.

Mascoutah, Ill., May 29.—Mascoutah was torn up by a tornado Wednesday night. Loss will foot up $500,000. It seems nothing short of a miracle that upward of 100 houses were wrecked, and some blown to pieces, and only one life lost in Mascoutah. Many were injured here, none seriously. At New Baden, however, twelve persons were killed, as follows: Adam Peters, Peter Kraus and wife, Mrs. William Rust, Jacob Mallrich, two children of Station Agent Borne, five others whose names cannot yet be ascertained.

Many were injured there, some fatally. At Birkner's and other small towns west of here on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, the towns were completely swept away and many lives lost.

Vandalia, Ill., May 29.—Trainmen on the Illinois Central report here that a fearful cyclone passed between Irvington and Richview on the Illinois Central Wednesday night, destroying much property and killing thirteen persons outright.

Mount Vernon, Ill., May 29.—Mrs. Margaret Carroll, Robert Foster, and three children, and their aunt, are reported killed near Jefferson City, this county, by the cyclone Wednesday night. Many were injured all over the county.

Many Children Are Victims.

Mexico, Mo., May 29.—A cyclone of great violence visited the northern portion of Audrain county, about eight miles northeast of Mexico, about 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It did not strike this city. Those known to be killed are: Eliza Ware, daughter of J. G. Ware; Hilda Blase, 6 years old, who died from injuries last night; Eula Miller, 9 years old; Rose Dodge, 6 years old; son of Albert Knoebel, 9 years old. Those known to be fatally injured are: Eugene Lott, 7 years old; Pearl Hodge, 8 years old; son of Frank Erdel, 8 years old.

Others known to be injured are: Clara Lierheimer, 6 years old, Riley Hagan, Charles Doerhke, about 50 years old; son of W. B. Willingham; child of Rev. Mr. Enrick; child of Robert Walters, Miss Mary Blincoe, teacher, seriously; two children of Ned Hagan, Lulu Eubanks, 7 years old; G. W. Farrington.

West of here the storm struck Clark and Renick, doing only slight damage. East of here it visited with great violence Vandalia and Curryville. At Bean Creek schoolhouse two of the scholars were killed and several others injured. At the Dye schoolhouse four of the scholars were killed and eighteen injured, the teacher, Mary Blincoe, fatally. Reports from the storm district are still coming in, and there is no estimating the loss of life and property at this time. The residence of George See, at Highhill, was struck. Mrs. See was killed and all her children injured.

Lives Lost Near Centralia Ill.

Centralia, Ill., May 29.—The cyclone passing south of this city and taking in its course New Baden, New Minden, Holyton, Rich View, Woodlawn, Boyd, Dix, and other places, was of the most destructive character. New Minden, it is reported, has but four houses left standing. It is variously reported that six to eight persons were killed near Holyton. Two men are reported killed at Boyd. The whole track of the cyclone is a devastated waste. The wires are all down south of here, and no accurate information can be obtained except through those who have gone to the nearest track of the storm.

Seven Dead at Jefferson City.

Mount Vernon, Ill., May 29.—Jefferson City, a small village ten miles east of this city, was struck by a cyclone Wednesday night and seven persons killed. The dead are: Mrs. Margaret Correll and son, three King children, a boy and two girls; Miss King, Robert Foster.

The village has about twenty houses and a church near by, and all but two were totally destroyed. Much damage is reported in the county, but no fatalities.

Four Killed at Renick.

Morgan, Mo., May 29.—A terrible cyclone occurred Wednesday afternoon between Renick, on the Wabash, and Clark, at the crossing of the Wabash and the Chicago and Alton railways. It is now reported that four persons are dead. The number of wounded cannot be approximated, as the storm swept away the telegraph wires.

TWO WRECKERS GET LONG SENTENCES

RACINE MEN ARE SENT TO PRISON.

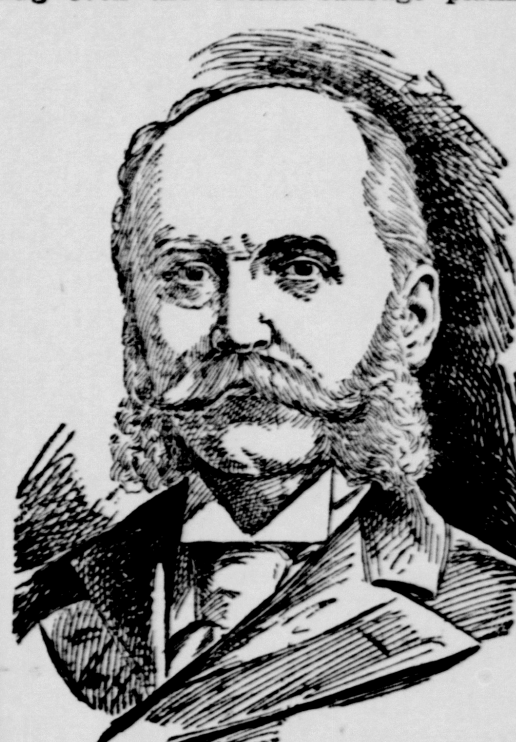

They Derailed a Beer Train and Tried to Wreck a Passenger, To 'Get Even With the Company'—Both Will Serve Seven Year Terms.

Racine, May 29.—[Special]—Reinhold Dunne and Michael Reider pleaded guilty in circuit court today to the charge of wrecking a beer train on the Northwestern road and also attempting to wreck the Green Bay passenger train. They said they did it to get even with the company. Both were sentenced to seven years in state's prison.

PROHIBS TURN SILVER DOWN

Action Causes a Bolt and Now There Are Two Parties.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 29.—The prohibition national convention Thursday nominated the following ticket: For president, Joshua P. Levering of Maryland; for vice-president, Hale Johnson of Illinois. The free-silver plank was rejected and the candidates were placed upon the thinnest kind of a "narrow-gauge" platform, embodying merely the principle of prohibition, and omitting even the woman-suffrage plank, which has been a feature of the platform for years past.

The beaten forces bolted the regular convention and took initial steps for the formation of a new party.

The committee on platform presented two reports to the convention. The majority or "narrow gauge" report declares its agreement with the United States Supreme court that statistics of every state shows more crime and misery result from use of ardent liquor dealers corrupt legislation and make good government impossible; that the party is unalterably opposed to the drink traffic and declares for its total suppression for beverage purposes, rejecting all compromise measures, whether license, local option, taxation or public control. Wage earners' attention is called to the enormous waste caused by the liquor traffic at the cost of production and that the success of the Prohibition party will remove this great burden from industry; that they stand for good government, honestly and economically administered; that there is no greater peril to the nation than the competition of political parties for the liquor vote and calls upon voters to enforce the declaration of the churches against the liquor traffic.

The minority report, which was presented by the broad gaugers, has the following declaration on the money question:

"That all money should be issued by the government only and without the intervention of any banking association. It should be based upon the wealth, stability and integrity of the nation, should be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and should be of sufficient volume to meet the demands of the legitimate business interests of the country, and for the purpose of honestly liquidating all our outstanding coin obligations we demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold, at a ratio of 16 to 1, without consulting any other nation."

Other planks in the platform declare against the manufacture or sale of intoxicants for beverage purposes. The use of liquors for medical and other legitimate purposes should be controlled by the state. Equal rights of suffrage for both sexes is favored and alien acquisition of land opposed. Government control of railroads, only English in the public schools, and no public funds for sectarian institutions, election of president and vice-president by popular vote, liberal pensions, amended immigration laws, none but citizens to vote and naturalized citizens to vote only after being naturalized a year, are other recommendations.

The first seven planks, including the one favoring woman's suffrage, were then taken up, and as they did not differ materially in either report, were adopted. The debate continued until nearly 6 o'clock, when a vote was finally reached, which resulted 387 for and 427 against the free silver plank. Then the convention was thrown into confusion by the action of R. H. Patton, of Illinois, who presented a substitute for the entire platform as far as adopted. The new platform excluded everything but prohibition, even woman suffrage,

A CHANGE IN PLANS AT BELOIT COLLEGE

TEN MEN TO REPRESENT THE SENIOR CLASS.

A. J. Boynton, of Emerald Grove is One of Them—The Others on the List—Field Day Today—Honor the Soldiers—Other News of the County.

Beloit, May 29.—[Special].—Beloit college has announced a change from the old custom of having the whole senior class speak at commencement, and hereafter ten men will be selected for the honors each year, to deliver orations. Five are selected for scholarship and five for competition through written pieces. The appointments made by the faculty this year are as follows: Scholarship—H. C. Cooper, Glen Elgin, Ill.; J. Jacobson, Chicago; G. F. Loomis, Troy, Wis.; C. B. Olds, Beloit; William Wilson, Competition—A. J. Boynton, Emerald Grove, Wis.; N. E. Catlin, Rockford, Ill.; A. Otterson, Beloit; E. H. Porter, Detroit, Mich.; H. W. Rose, Fort Atkinson, Wis.

Celebrate Memorial Day.

Beloit, May 29.—The Beloit Grand Army Post will celebrate Memorial Day by a parade and listening to a speech by Hon. M. G. Jeffris of Janesville. The parade with the City Band and Line City Rifles acting as escort will leave the Post hall at 1:30 p. m. and, if the weather permits, proceed directly to the cemetery where the exercises will be held. If the weather is unpropitious the exercises will be held in the First Congregational church.

Flag Day at Beloit

Beloit, May 29.—[Special].—This is what is termed "flag day" in Beloit's public schools, and patriotic addresses were made to the scholars of the various schools by Prof. J. J. Blaisdell, Prof. H. M. Whitney, Rev. W. W. Sleeper and Rev. A. W. Runyan.

Field Day at the College

Beloit, May 29.—[Special].—The annual field day events of Beloit college took place on Keep Athletic field today. An interesting program of sports with a large number of contestants furnished entertainment for a large crowd of citizens.

ENTERTAINMENT AT MILTON.

Annual Benefit of The King's Daughters—Other News Notes.

Milton, May 29.—Artistically, financially and socially the fourth annual benefit of the King's Daughters Tuesday night was a success. An interesting program was enjoyed by all, and we regret that space forbids our making an individual mention of those taking part. However, the booths proved the especial attraction, and well they might have been. They were charmingly picturesque. In the German booth, presided over by Miss Grace Clarke, Mrs. James Bullis and Mrs. Emma Anderson, all was so exceedingly realistic that at times we could imagine we heard the glasses click merrily. In the English booth, presided over by Mrs. G. B. Chambers, Misses Anna Jackson, Bertha Fross and Cora Goodrich, English refreshments were served. In this booth the drapings were particularly noticeable, some of them having been made by Mr. Chambers' grandmother in England years ago. The American booth, draped in the stars and stripes, and presided over by Misses Arletta Reynolds, Bessie Clarke, Cora Clarke and Miss Mattie Browning, was, as it naturally would be, a great source of attraction. The Spanish booth, in which was Mrs. W. W. Clarke and Misses Margaret and Nettie Ooon, commanded no little attention and admiration, and its inviting appearance drew many visitors. Canada came in for its full share of patronage, its refreshments not being its only attraction. It was presided over by Mrs. J. H. Burdick, Mrs. F. C. Munro, Mrs. Joe Goodrich and Miss Hattie Maxson. In the Japanese booth, which was the talk of the bazaar were found ideal Japs in the persons of Miss G. L. Davidson, Mrs. A. B. Lee, and Mrs. Oscar Crumb. Probably a very small minority of the many who visited the Bazar will think, or be able to realize if they do think, of the immensity of the undertaking, yet the executive committee, Mrs. Clem. W. Crumb, chairman, surmounted all obstacles in the way of progress, and the result stood forth in the brilliant success of the entertainment. Miss Bede Leonard, who has been teaching at Hayward, is at home to enjoy a vacation. C. F. Tomkins shook hands with Madison friends Tuesday. Deacon W. H. Greenman visited Merrill Park relatives this week. Mrs. Saxton of Darien, has been the guest of Milton relatives.

THE EVANSVILLE CAMP FIRE

Attendance Was Small Because of the Rain—News and Gossip

Evansville, May 29.—The camp fire held at Magee's hall, Wednesday evening, given by the T. L. Stupphen G. A. R., was not as largely attended as should have been, on account of the rain. The addresses given by Gov. Upham, Commander W. D. Hoard, Col. E. B. Gray and S. H. Talmage were fine, and the singing by Col. E. O. Kimberley was worthy of much praise. The Black Hussar band furnished the music for the occasion. The class day exercises were well attended, and the audience were well pleased with the speeches. The reply of the Juniors given by Grace Carpenter, was ably written and rendered. The remains of George Smith, of Chicago, were brought here Monday, and were taken to Magnolia, Tuesday, for interment. He will be remembered by our citizens as frequently visiting his brother here, the late Sidney Smith. He was a single man, and was buried by the side of his parents. Nearly forty of the T. L. Stupphen Post attended the funeral of General Lucius Fairchild at Madison, Tuesday. Mrs. William Johnson and Miss Musie Persons, of Attica, have started a dress-making shop in Mrs. Johnson's residence on South Madison street. They will guarantee good work and reasonable prices, and invite their lady friends to give them a call. Mr. and Mrs. James Broderick formerly of this city, but who for the past year have been traveling in Montana, visited a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brink. Mrs. Jennie Niece has returned to her home in Pennsylvania, her sister, Mrs. Henry Allen, being much better. Mrs. Philip Dremor of Jug Prairie, well known here, was buried Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Henry Monahan is in Albany, caring for her father, Mr. Welch, who is very sick. Mrs. Ryan spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. W. T. Dooley of Janesville. Mrs. Ida Caldwell of Beloit, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, returning Monday. Mrs. G. O. Gordon, little daughter, and Mrs. O. Gordon, returned to their Lodi home, Tuesday, having visited the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, Sr. Mrs. Murray of Janesville, was the guest of Mrs. C. A. Broughton Monday. Miss Sadie Copeland and Miss Ball drove to Brodhead Sunday. William Campbell and wife of Janesville, visited here the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas are rejoicing over the arrival of a son. Stasia Hayward returned home from Berlin Monday evening. L. E. Gottle of Madison called here Saturday. Lola Blood spent Sunday in Madison. Mrs. Charles Winship is quite ill. E. D. McGowan of Janesville was here on business Monday. Mrs. W. Biglow, Mrs. Elsie Hartley, Miss Eliza Cleland, Miss Helen Brooks, Mrs. J. W. Morgan and daughter Cora, spent Saturday in Janesville.

FLAG RAISING AT WILDER SCHOOL

Patriotic Occasion Was Much Enjoyed By a Large Assemblage.

Footville, May 29.—Last Friday was a day long to be remembered by the people in the Wilder district in the town of Porter. It was the occasion of the raising of the flag of our Union. Several years ago a wooden flag staff was erected on the school grounds, but some months ago it was blown down. The district then erected one of similar material. It stands eighty-three feet above ground and was procured through A. S. Baker of Evansville. The Evansville Post of the G. A. R., together with other prominent citizens of Evansville and the Porter band, the members of which were at their best, were present. The band did honor to itself and pleased the people. Miss Nettie Peach, the teacher, had arranged an appropriate programme, which was carried out as follows: Music by the band, prayer by Rev. O. P. Bestor, address of welcome, presentation of the flag, acceptance of the flag, grand salute, songs, dialogues, concert exercises, &c., all of which was of a very patriotic character. The Post then supervised the raising of the flag, and carried out their usual order of exercises. An oration by Rev. Bestor, in which he produced abundant evidence that a "dim sense of loyalty is a fit soil for the cultivation of mob violence. To foresee these evils, to prevent them by a counter education is the part of an enlightened statesmanship," followed and dinner was served under the trees.

Attention, Elks!

There will be a regular session of Janesville Lodge No. 254 B. P. O. E., this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, at Castle hall. A visit from our grand officers, initiations and a banquet will be the features of the evening. Per order W. E. EVENSON, E. K. B. H. BALDWIN, Sec'y.

CIRCUS IS COMING ON WOODMEN'S DAY

THAT WAS THE ONLY THING LACKING.

Col. Hall, of Evansville, Will Be Here on Tuesday and Wednesday June 9 and 10—Probably Show at Spring Brook—Plans Are Now Complete.

All that was needed to make the Woodmen's picnic a great success was a circus.

And now we've got that. Hall & McFlynn's allied shows will be here on June 9 and 10.

Advertising car No. 1 arrived on the St. Paul road this morning and it was announced that the first circus that has been here in many years was "a comin'." As the fair grounds have been leased for both days by the Driving club, the probabilities are that the circus tents will be pitched in Spring Brook addition.

The Hall & McFlynn show comes from Evansville, Col. George Hall, the famous veteran showman, being the principal owner of the aggregation. Col. Hall has probably been in business longer than any showman now on the road.

Plans For the Day.

Plans for the picnic are now complete, and the program has been made out and distributed. The parade will occur at 11 o'clock. Starting from the park, it will cross Court street bridge, go up Pleasant street to Academy, along Academy to Milwaukee; up Milwaukee to East street; east on East street to Park Place, where it will disband.

At 2 o'clock, the exercises will occur in the Court house park, for which the program has been printed. At Athletic Park there will be a ball game between the Central Y. M. C. A. team of Chicago, and the local Y. M. C. A. nine, to be followed by a basket ball game. There will also be a programme of field sports under the direction of Professor Dixon, of the Y. M. C. A.

At Crystal Springs there will be concerts all day, while at Mayflower park there will be a balloon ascension and a prize tug of war.

The Prize Drill.

The prize drill for teams of Foresters will occur at the Corn Exchange, at 2 o'clock. Twenty-five dollars in cash will be given for the best team, while the best drilled uniformed Foresters will get a fifteen dollar uniform for their commander. Each team will be given fifteen minutes in which to perform as much as possible, as they will be called in order according to their age. The drill will be marked on a basis of thirty points, divided as follows: General appearance, five points; formation of company, five points; marching, five points; fancy movements, five points; marshal of ax, five points; and Woodmen Honor with ax, five points.

The judges will be Capt. Hanson and Capt. LaGrange, and Janesville's camp will not enter.

At the Driving park, the trotting and pacing races will occur. Entries are coming in quite freely, and the program has been arranged in an attractive manner.

The coming of the circus makes the day complete, and it will be the largest in Janesville history without a doubt.

NOVEL SHOW AT MYERS GRAND

Hypnotism, Mind Reading and Magnetic Influence Were the Features.

A novel entertainment was given at the Myers Grand, last evening, by the A. Frederick Collins' Psychological Quintette, who opened a three nights' engagement. The "free test" made by Prof. Sundeen, was a successful one, and his stage work was equally mystifying.

Miss Mabel Davenport, by some unknown magnetic force, is able to counteract the strength of a dozen men, and gave an entertaining exhibition of her mysterious power.

Kullo, the Hindoo priestess, gave an exhibition of spiritualism, while James Bidwell, the "London forger," gave an exhibition of writing. A hypnotic exhibition, with local subjects, was the closing feature. The prices are 10, 20 and 30 cents, and there will be a change of programme tonight.

CROOKS AT MILTON JUNCTION.

Commercial House Entered By Thieves Who Got Nothing.

The Commercial house, at Milton Junction, was broken into in the absence of the occupants. Bureau drawers were ransacked, but nothing of value was taken but a pair of gold-bowed spectacles belonging to Mrs. Hendricks. The thief entered by tearing the window screen.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

CALLED THE BASE BALL NINE IN Beloit Youths Did Not Stay In Janesville Over Night.

A dozen young men who comprise the Beloit High School base ball nine club arrived in the city Wednesday to play the local team, but rain interfered and they postponed the game till yesterday. The boys were more than pleased at the thought of staying over night here, and their Janesville friends had planned a merry time, but about eleven o'clock a telephone message came from Prof. Gordon, of the Beloit schools, calling the young men home and the game was "off." The message merely stated that their presence was needed in school. They left that evening on the 11 o'clock train, feeling anything but happy at the sudden change in the program.

LAMONT TRAVELS IN A WAGON
Old Soldier On a Jaunt With Two Dogs As Companions

John LaMont, an old soldier, with two dogs as companions, arrived in the city in a covered wagon drawn by a pair of good looking horses. Mr. LaMont said that he lived at O'Neill, Neb., and that business had called him to Wisconsin, but in order to make the trip in safety he thought it would be best to come overland. He has been on the road since January and expects to reach home some time in June.

IS YOUR DIGESTION POOR?

A Sample and Full Information Concerning the New Discovery for Dyspepsia Sent Free to Any Address.

A great deal of interest has been excited recently in the medical profession by the discovery of a new preparation, which has made many remarkable cures in cases of dyspepsia and indigestion.

This remedy is not a secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of pure pepsin and bismuth and fruit salts, pleasant to the taste, in tablet form, and sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Dr. Erskine who tested the tablets in many cases with marked success, states that they act entirely on the food taken into the stomach digesting it perfectly, no matter how weak the stomach may be; they have no action on the bowels and do not physic, being purely and simply a cure for dyspepsia and nothing else.

All physicians recommend them as being the safest, most sensible, most effective stomach remedy on the market.

No dieting or change of habits are required; eat all the wholesome food you care for and take a tablet at each meal, the food will be thoroughly digested, the body nourished, the stomach rested; that's the whole secret of curing indigestion and the whole secret of the success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets; the reason why they have taken the place of after-dinner pills, "stomach bitters," "laxatives" and "tonics."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cts. per package, or he will order them for you if you ask him, as all druggists sell them.

A small sample package of the tablets will be sent free to any address if you will write to the Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. Also circulars and testimonials.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS TO CAMP OUT
Twenty Boys Will Enjoy an Outing at Lake Beulah.

Twenty boys from the Junior department of the local Y. M. C. A. will indulge in a two weeks' outing at Lake Beulah, some time in July. Albert E. Mielcz, in the interest of the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., paid Secretary J. C. Kline a visit yesterday, for the purpose of making final arrangements. With every five boys who go from this city, there will be an attendant, whose business will be to look after them day and night. A regular program of work will be carried out during the day. Secretary J. C. Kline and Physical Director Dixon expect to attend, and among the other cities who will send delegations are Racine, Milwaukee and Waukesha.

BENEATH DEATH'S DARK CLOUD

Mrs. Clarinda Peck.

Mrs. Clarinda Peck died at her home, May 14, aged seventy-five years, two months and twenty-one days. She was born in Westminster, Vt., Feb. 23, 1821, and was married to Levi S. Peck, June 27, 1842. They came to Wisconsin in 1846 and located in Rock county. She leaves, to mourn her death, six children, Mrs. E. Barnes of Milton Junction; Alonzo Peck and Mrs. M. E. Anderson of Mason City, Ia.; Mrs. S. VanKleeck, Sun Prairie; L. K. Peck and Mrs. Belle Stockman, Milton Junction. For fifty-one years she and her husband were united heart and hand in making one of the happiest of homes for their children and friends. On July 1, 1893, her husband was called from "labor to reward," and since that time she has, in true faith, been waiting for the Chariot of Israel to bear her spirit to the "sweet bye and bye."

She was an affectionate and amiable companion, a loving mother, a kind neighbor and true friend. Her life was characterized by firmness for the right, true and noble. A woman of superior judgment and business tact, a wise counselor and an earnest worker. L. L. T.

For Over Fifty Years

A Misunderstanding.

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the new city directory, as there are two different firms now in the field. A word in behalf of the Union Publishing Company: We came here and hired men to do the work who were recommended by the mayor, and did not bring strange men in the town, who are not acquainted with the streets, that being the cause of so many mistakes in the directories which have been published heretofore. If we had known there was to be any opposition we would not have started on the work, but as we have started and been to a considerable expense, we will furnish a directory, the correctness of which we guarantee. We have been approached on the subject of buying the other people off, but thinking they are trying to blackmail us, we refused to listen to any of their propositions, and will go on and print a first class directory, and we hope to have our efforts recognized by the citizens of Janesville. HARRY HOSHEL.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1807—Louis Jean Rudolphe Agassiz, naturalist and geologist, born in Motier, Switzerland; died 1873. Agassiz passed his youth and early manhood studying the medical sciences at Munich, Heidelberg and Berlin. He graduated in 1830 and meanwhile had made a study of fishes taken to Europe from Brazil. He had previously paid much attention to fossil and fresh water fishes. While professor of natural history of Neuchâtel he published two works upon fishes which attracted wide attention, and in 1847 he accepted the chair of zoology and geology at Harvard. In his special departments Agassiz became a leader of wonderful force in America.

1843—Noah Webster, American lexicographer, died in New Haven; born at West Hartford, Conn., 1758.

1878—Lord John Russell (Earl Russell), twice prime minister of England, died near London; born 1792.

1895—Walter Quinton Gresham, secretary of state, died in Washington; born 1832. Pacific mail steamer Colina ran upon a reef off Manzanillo, Mexico, during a gale; 136 persons drowned. French steamer Dom Pedro wrecked off the Spanish coast; 100 lives lost.

This Beautiful Vehicle

Is just out and a wonder to the trade, being constructed upon entirely new lines, hand carved body, latest shape, solid foot dash, silver rope rail around rear of body, and, while it is very light, like all the buggies manufactured by the Terre Haute Buggy Co., the construction is such that it is the most roomy vehicle of the kind ever before presented to the buggy world. It well merits the great sale it is meeting with. You can see this vehicle at our show rooms.

EARLY SUMMER MUST-HAVE'S

It's absolutely necessary to have one, and in many cases, all, of the things we talk on in this ad.

For instance, hot weather makes the keeping of the food and eatables generally, untainted—a rather hard task unless your refrigerator is in good shape. You should have one large enough to keep all the table stuff in.

THE ILLINOIS AUTOMATIC combined Refrigerator and Water Cooler is the best on the market. We handle other kinds as well and think you should see them before you buy.

Why not keep the lawn nicely cut and have it look as well as your neighbors? We can give you a good

LAWN MOWER FOR $2.75 and have better ones for a little more money. Our stock is large.

SCREEN DOORS & WINDOWS

A great stock of them. The kind you don't have to swear about while putting them in or taking them out. You can't kick about the price they are so cheap.

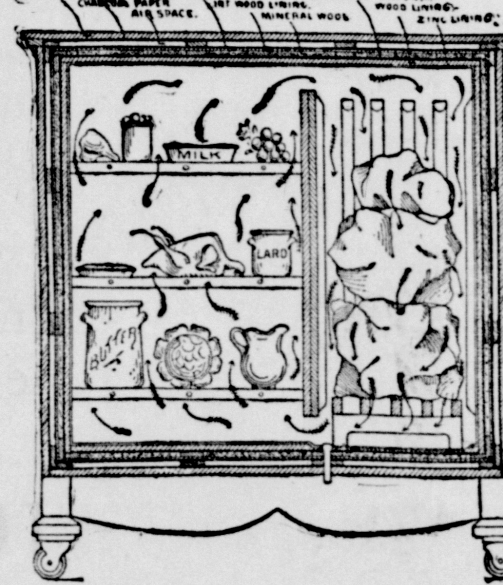

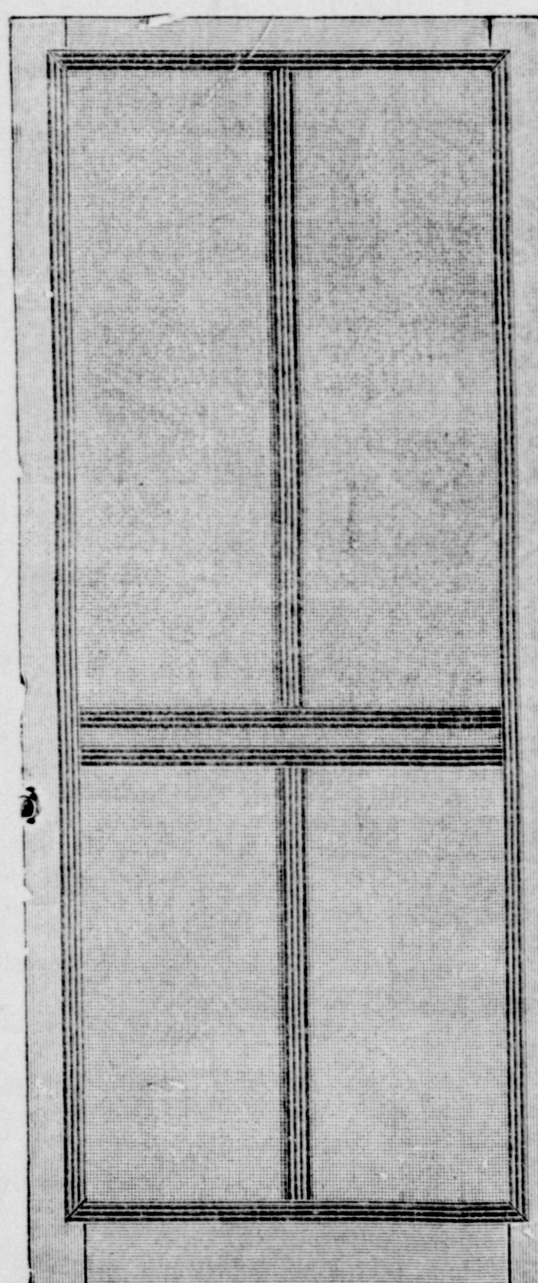

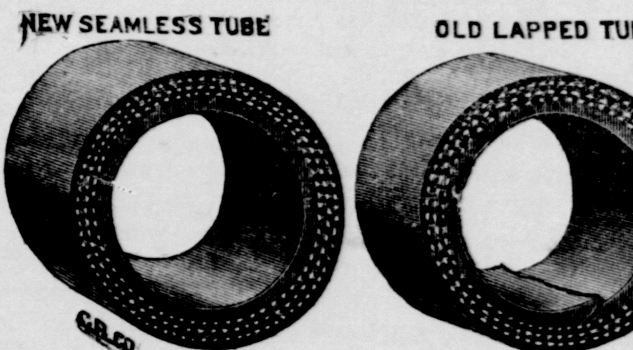

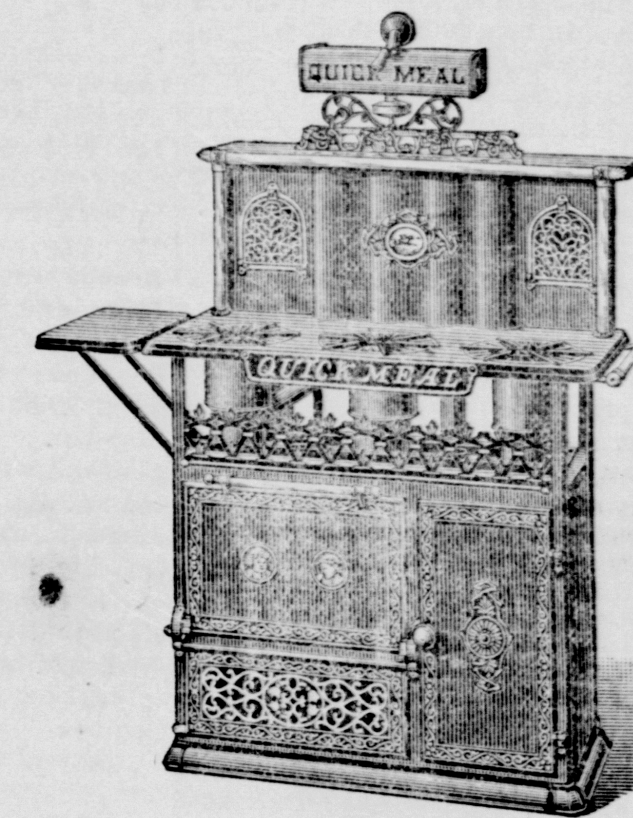

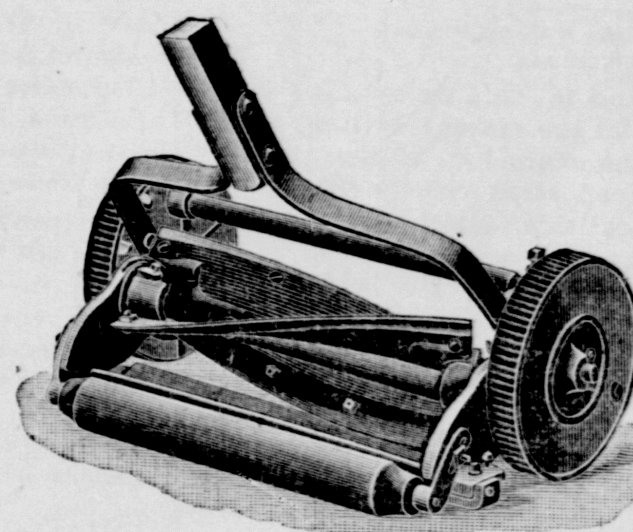

CLEVELAND SEAMLESS HOSE

No seam to leak or rot. It lasts twice as long as other Hose and is cheaper in the long run.

MACHINE CO. LOSES BY THE CYCLONE

GOODS WORTH $1,000 IN THE ST. LOUIS WRECK.

Warehouse Was In The Stricken District But Dispatches to Them Gave No Particulars—W. M. Taggart Worries About His Family—Were Janesville People There?

"Warehouse in the cyclone." That was the brief message that came to the Janesville Machine Company by telegraph today.

The company makes St. Louis the distributing point for that section of the country, and kept their supplies in a large warehouse. This building was located near the river, and in the section where the storm did its worst.

The dispatch gave no particulars, but the company at once ordered one of its Southern Illinois representatives to the city to investigate and report.

"We do not know much about it," said Manager L. B. Reynolds in response to a Gazette man's question this afternoon. "The telegram gave no particulars. We had perhaps $1,000 worth of goods in the warehouse and we do not know to what extent the stock was damaged. The loss may be less than that sum. We will have no detailed information until we hear from our agent."

Taggart In Suspense
W. M. Taggart, of St. Louis, is at the Grand Hotel, awaiting anxiously to hear from his family.

Mr. Taggart travels for a St. Louis leather firm. He got a letter from his son, at that place this morning. The letter was written the day of the cyclone, and the closing sentence was:

"It is now 5:30 o'clock p. m. The sky is as black as ink, and it looks as if we would have a fearful storm."

Five minutes after the letter was written, the storm broke. Since then Mr. Taggart has not been able to communicate with his family, and does not know whether they escaped or not. His home, he said, is in the vicinity of the wrecked part of the town, and he is much worried. He hoped to get an answer to his telegram this afternoon or evening, and will probably go home if he does not.

Are Janesville Men There?
Janesville friends of Ex-Officer Walter Houghton and William Jones were much worried about them when they first learned of the storm. Messrs. Houghton and Jones were supposed to be in St. Louis on the day of the cyclone, enroute for Arkansas, but might have reached that city the day before or the day after.

S. E. Neighbors, the former agent of the Adams Express company, in this city, lives at East St. Louis while many Janesville people have acquaintances in both places. The residence districts of both cities seem to have escaped the storm, however, and the probabilities are that no one was killed outside of the territory along the river.

The fatal storms in Iowa, caused the St. Paul passenger train from Rockford to be an hour late this morning, owing to non-connections at Davis Junction.

THE GOLF PLAYERS OUT TODAY

The Buckleton Links a Popular Place This Afternoon.

Golf still seems to hold its own in Janesville, and at the present writing J. P. Baker is the champion, his score being 76. A good sized crowd witnessed the sport this afternoon at Buckleton Links, and among those who took part were: C. C. MacLean, P. J. Mount, J. P. Baker, W. W. Porter, C. N. Vankirk, F. E. Fifield and Mayor F. S. Baines.

RUBBER WHIST GAME ARRANGED
Janesville and Rockford Teams To Meet at Beloit Thursday.

The final meeting of the Rockford and Janesville whist clubs will take place in Beloit next Thursday evening. As each team has won a game, the event promises to be a most interesting one. Thirty-two players will come up from Rockford. Sixteen will play the Beloit Whist Club, while the other sixteen will endeavor to beat the Janesville men.

ALL IS NOW READY FOR MEMORIAL DAY

PLANS FOR THE OBSERVANCE ARE COMPLETE.

Parade Will Move at 2 O'clock—Dr. J. B. Whiting to be the Speaker—Nearly All Local Societies to Take Part—The Program at the Cemetery.

Tomorrow Janesville will honor the "soldier dead," and plans for the observance are now complete. The parade will occur at 2 o'clock, and the procession will form on South Main street. One tap of the fire bell at the west side station will be the signal for the companies and societies to leave their respective quarters for the place of rendezvous. At two o'clock two taps will be given which will be the signal for the procession to move.

The line of march will be north on Main street to Milwaukee, west on Milwaukee to North Jackson, north on North Jackson to Mineral Point avenue to Oak Hill avenue, north on Oak Hill avenue to the cemetery.

Some changes have been made on the formation of the parade, and the arrangement of the program at the cemetery. The parade will be as follows:

Janesville Fire Police.

JAPANESE FENCING BOUTS.

Skilful Work with Foils Made of Split Bamboo.

If you are ever asked to engage in a duel with a Japanese, being the challenged party, select any implement rather than the single-stick, for unless you are proficient in thrusts and parries you will be "done up" in short order, says the Pacific Commercial Advertiser. There is a club in Honolulu, with headquarters on Maunakea street, whose members have an instructor in the use of the single-stick. The organization is solely for amusement, rather than for business, though there is probably a desire on the part of the leaders to perpetuate the old-fashioned methods of their forefathers in quenching rebellions. The headquarters of the Sunrise Single-Stick club is on the lower floor of the building occupied by the Japanese newspaper of the same name. Through the kindness of Editor Satto and Hiraoka, business manager of the paper, a reporter was given an opportunity to witness an exhibition between Yajimai and Karikawa, two expert handlers of the sticks. By way of introduction the combatants removed their kimono and donned loose skirts and a helmet with strong iron bars across the face. They then sheathed their bodies with stiff bamboo breastplates. Heavily padded gloves, with gauntlets, finished the costume. The "short sticks" are about five feet long and are made of several pieces of bamboo fastened together. There seemed to be no call of "time" by a referee; the men stepped to the center of the room and saluted each other by a motion of the arm, and then one uttered a guttural sound, signifying his willingness to begin the fray, and they crossed sticks, the point of each being held on a level with the neck and the hands grasped with both hands. Yajimai led and throughout the bout was acting on the offensive, while Karikawa braved himself, so as to resist and ward off any blow that might be directed toward him. Once he was thoughtless; Yajima gave him a crack on the helmet that resounded through the room. All the time the men were fencing they were shouting, as if warning each other to look out for what might be coming. To the stranger who is not familiar with the rules there seemed to be no rest for the men. If one should receive a blow which, under ordinary circumstances would warrant his going down for a few seconds, long enough to recover, it must simply end with the desire, and his next move will be to get back at his opponent. In this exhibition Karikawa, who was rather more stockily built than his foe, had the best of the first of the fight, but the end was a draw and the men retired, windless and with the perspiration pouring from their faces. Single-stick fencing among the Japanese is so different from anything attempted by the white people that it is difficult to make comparisons or draw conclusions. If quickness in an attack or parry is the secret of the game Yajimai and Karikawa should be entitled to positions as experts. Their endurance, too, is remarkable, considering the thickness of the clothing worn. Swathed as they are in heavily padded suits, evidently much depends upon the eye, and it is when one of the fencers catches the eye of his opponent off his guard that he attempts a blow, but to ascertain when the eye is not attending to its business is much too difficult for a stranger to solve—shielded as the fencer's face is with iron bars set closely together.

Sanitarium in the Tropics.

Medical island is the name which has been given by a syndicate of physicians from New York, Paris, London and Berlin to a tropical island of volcanic origin eleven days' sail from San Francisco. Here is to be elaborated a model sanitarium for the cure of the drink and opium habits. There will be no hotels or boarding houses, but in their stead there will be three handsome clubhouses without bars. Patients must consent to remain away from the continent for one year and pay all expenses for that time in advance. The island is under the jurisdiction of Great Britain, from whom the syndicate will secure its needed concession.—New York World.

This Boy a Human Magnet.

William Thomas, a 13-year-old lad of Roscoe, Ga., went to bed as usual one night last week. In a short time the bedstead began to pitch and toss wildly. Filled with terror, the little chap called his grandfather, whom he was visiting. All the efforts of the grandfather were powerless to control the movements of the bed, and he sent for aid from his neighbors.

It required four strong men to keep the bed still. Dr. Hood of Roscoe has been asked to examine the lad, who is supposed to be violently magnetic.—Exchange.

Theory and Practice.

Mistress—"Mercy on me, what a kitchen. Every pot, pan and dish is dirty, the table looks like a junk shop, and—why, it will take you a week to get things cleaned up. What have you been doing?"

Servant—"Sure, mum, the young ladies has just been down here showing me how they roast a potato at the cooking school."—New York Weekly.

A Generous Landlord.

Tenant—"That chandelier in the parlor is so shaky I'm afraid some time, when the children are romping under it, the whole thing will fall."

Landlord—"Well, that chandelier ain't worth more than its price for old brass, anyhow. It doesn't matter whether it gets broken or not."—New York Weekly.

As a Last Resort.

"What I want," said the theatrical manager, "is a genuine novelty."

"Something realistic?" asked the play writer.

"Yes; but I don't want any real pugilists, or real divorce heroines, or real live stock, or real sawmills in it."

The play writer looked wearily thoughtful, and after a pause inquired:

"How would it do to spring something on the public with real actors in it?"—Washington Star.

Impossible.

The new footman brought up a card, bearing the name of Mr. Montmorency Snooper.

"Show him up," said Mrs. Fosdick.

"O'i'm sorry, mum, but Oi can't do it, mum," replied the lackey. "How can Oi show him up? Sure, an' Oi don't know the fust thing about him. Oi never laid eyes on him till this blessed minute!"—To Date.

Unpleasant for the Others.

A mother, commending her daughter for a situation, was asked if she was an early riser. "An early riser!" she exclaimed. "Well, I should think so! Why, she's up in the morning and has breakfast ready and makes all the beds before anyone else is up in the house!"—Youth's Companion.

Mixed It.

Just before the curtain went up for the third act Mr. Jagway returned and took his seat.

"You may have gone out for a breath of fresh air," observed Mrs. Jagway, in a rasping whisper, "but that isn't the kind of breath you have brought back with you."—Chicago Tribune.

"No; but I can make him fast."

"You—can you train a horse?"

"No; but I can tie one."—Texas Sifter.

Greely and Greeley.

"Do you know," said Representative Aldrich of Chicago, "meeting General Greeley recently reminds me of a day at the World's fair, when we all stood with open mouth wonderment and interest, looking upon that scene, so graphically illustrated, of Greeley and his little band of surviving explorers struggling with death and worse. At the same time we were listening with sadness to the eloquent recital which was given to groups of visitors every few moments by the attendant, when suddenly, during a pause in the proceedings, an old granger—that was his appearance—broke out feelingly, 'I allus thought it was a shame that Greeley wa'n't elected president and said so to the Grant crowd to hum at the time.'"—Washington Post.

The Perspective.

She waved her hand imperiously. "Be very careful," she commanded her maid, "of the perspective. You made me look dreadfully shallow last evening."

After that the making of her toilet proceeded without further interruption. —Detroit Tribune.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the photograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness of the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—ROCK COUNTY—ss.—Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of an execution issued out of the circuit court for Rock County, Wisconsin, on a judgment rendered March 27, 1896, in favor of George T. Spaulding, plaintiff, against E. Gahagan, defendant, for the sum of one hundred four and 78-100 dollars damages and twenty-five dollars costs, I will, on the 18th day of May, 1896, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the front door of the postoffice in the city of Janesville, county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder therefor, all the interest which the defendant, E. Gahagan, had on the 24th day of October, 1895, in and to the following described premises, lying and being in the town of Spring Valley, Rock county, and known and described as:

The west half of the southwest quarter of section twenty-two (22) and the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section twenty-one (21) and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section twenty (20) town two (2) range sixth interest in all of the real estate above described.—Dated April 3, 1896.

ROCK COUNTY—ss.—WHEREAS, by virtue of a writ of attachment issued out of the circuit court for Rock county in an action wherein Emma Belle Cary was plaintiff and Martin H. Broderick was defendant, I levied and attached the real estate and premises hereinafter described, on the 2d day of January, 1895, as the property of the defendant, Martin H. Broderick, and the same was duly rendered, and entered in said action on the 9th day of May, 1895, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of eight hundred seventy-four and 68-100 dollars and costs, and the same premises hereinafter described, situated in the village (now city) of Evansville, county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, described as follows, to wit:

WHEREAS, an order was made by the circuit court for Rock county, on the 17th day of June, 1895, staying proceedings for the collection of said judgment until the further order of the court, and

WHEREAS, by a stipulation of the parties dated the 5th day of May, 1896, the sum of three hundred seventy-four and 68-100 dollars was remitted from said judgment by the plaintiff, and an order was entered in said action, dated the 8th day of May, 1896, vacating said order of June 17th, 1895.

Now, therefore, by virtue of said execution so issued, and rendered to me in said action, and by virtue of the said levy made by me on real estate and premises hereinafter described, I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder therefor, at the west front door of the court house at the city of Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin, on Monday, the 22d day of June, 1896, and at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, the following real estate and premises, situated in the village (now city) of Evansville, county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, described as follows, to wit:

The northeast part of lot four (4), block eight (8) of the original plat of the village of Evansville, which is bounded as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner of said lot four (4); thence south on the east line of said lot twelve (12) rods; thence west at right angles three (3) rods; thence northerly at right angles twelve (12) rods to the south margin of the street; thence easterly along the south line of said street three (3) rods to the place of beginning, or so much thereof, as may be necessary to pay the sum of five hundred dollars due on said judgment with interest and costs of sale.

Dated May 8, 1896.

PREVAILING MODES.

Close Fitting Linings For Every Kind of Waist—Sleeves Smaller.

All well made bodices, whether they are draped, gathered or plaited, crosswise or lengthwise, have a perfectly smooth fitting lining. This may be of faille, taffeta or fine satin. The back part of the lining—that is, the back and side pieces—are sewed and boned, and the two fronts likewise. The fronts and the back are then basted together at the shoulders and under the arms, and the outside is draped and fitted to the lining upon the person for whom the gown is intended or upon a dress form. When the outside is properly adjusted, the back and the fronts are sewed together.

Sleeves are more and more flat and close, the most fashionable sleeve now having only a small balloon at the top. This is kept expanded by means of a puffing of stiff material sewed upon the upper part of the lining.

Skirts are ample, but not exaggerated. They vary from 5 to 6½ yards in circumference. Many women wear a stiffened petticoat to give the desired flaring effect, instead of having a wide haircloth facing placed in the skirt itself. This saves weight and gives an equally good effect. The pocket, when there is one, is put at the left side of the back opening.

It should be remembered that all stiffening material that depends upon starch for its rigidity is only temporarily supporting. It always collapses in a very short time and is then a mere rag, adding weight to the costume and serving no good purpose. It is cheap, but quite impractical.

The illustration shows a costume of black and white striped satin. The bodice is plain. The Louis Quinze bodice has a very short ripple basque. The bodice is draped at the top and crossed over a guimpe of black satin. One side is trimmed with a ruffle of white lace, a jabot of the same lace appearing at the opening of the basque. A bow with two coques is placed at the fastening of the bodice under a button of fine paste. A similar button is at the waist. The gigot sleeves are finished with frills of white gauze, and a ruche of the same material surmounts the collar.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHIONABLE MATERIALS.

Delicate Colored Crepe de Chine, Trimmed With Lace, For Summer Wear.

Some of the most elegant costumes designed for warm weather wear are of crepe de chine. All colors are employed—pale green, amethyst, mauve, silver gray—and the trimming consists of old guimpe, point de venise and jeweled buttons and buckles. A great deal of taffeta is also worn, combined with plaited gauze, the latter forming flounces and draperies. Mohair composes many pretty gowns and is adorned with heavy lace, applications and fancy buttons. Cloth is used for tailor made gowns, which continue to be as fashionable as ever. The favorite shades are light tones of mastic, sable and dust gray, and the gowns are trimmed with embroidery, eren lace and ornamental buttons. These light cloth gowns, worn with a vest of silk of the same tone and a guimpe of guimpe, are exceedingly fashionable. A collar of white tulle or white gauze may be added.

Plaids are persistently worn in Paris, but it seems to be impossible to force them into general popularity elsewhere, although some very pleasing and fashionable gowns are sometimes composed of them. Plaid ribbons have "taken" very well for millinery purposes, and plaid shirt waists have had a reasonable amount of acceptance, but plaid gowns are not favorites. Shepherd's checks, not only in black and white, but in navy blue, brown, tan or gray and white, have been more fortunate, and many simple but pretty and becoming gowns are made of them. Separate skirts of shepherd's checks, to be worn with shirt waists, have also quite a vogue.

The illustration shows a costume of mauve taffeta with deeper mauve figures. The bodice has three lengthwise straps of moss green ribbon defining the tablier. The straps begin at the waist and terminate at the foot under bows. The bodice, which is fitted at the back and gathered at the waist in front, has a yoke-like collar of white lace and is adorned with three straps of ribbons in front. Each begins, under a clasp, at the lower edge of the collar and extends to the waist line. The balloon elbow sleeves are finished with a band and choux of green ribbon, and the draped collar and the belt are also of green ribbon.

DEFEAT FOR SILVER.

and was the narrowest kind of a "narrow gauge" declaration. After a sharp debate in which Mrs. Helen M. Gougar vainly attempted to save the woman suffrage plank, the substitute was adopted by a standing vote, and the afternoon session closed in the wildest confusion.

The "broad gauge" element left the convention hall late at night and organized a convention in another hall. Eleven state chairmen were among the bolters and twenty-four states were represented. Among the prominent bolters were Helen M. Gougar of Indianapolis, ex-Governor John P. St. John, R. S. Thompson, editor of the New Era; John Lloyd Thomas of New York, and L. B. Logan of Ohio. The new party was named the National party, and its motto is "Home Protection." The state delegates were authorized to appoint two members from each state to form a national central committee.

ELGIN IS HORRIFIED.

Col. McClincy's Murder Startles His Former Fellow-Citizens.

Elgin, Ill., May 29.—News of the murder of Colonel Richard P. McClincy and family at their home near San Jose, Cal., horrified the people of Elgin, among whom Colonel McClincy lived a score of years. He came from West Virginia after the war, in which he fought under Stonewall Jackson. For years he was local editor of the Elgin Gazette, afterward the Advocate; was one of the organizers, and for ten years, up to 1887, secretary of the Elgin board of trade, prominent in all dairy meetings, and secretary of the Illinois State Dairymen's Association and the Northwestern Dairymen's Association, a leader in Odd Fellow ranks, and for years deputy grand master of the state.

Farmers of Ohio are of the opinion that the wheat crop this year will be a decided failure on account of a recent frost. Some farmers complain of a little worm which is causing great destruction.

Attention Comrades

In Behalf of Wheel Owners.

There is now pending in the house of delegates of the Maryland legislature a bill "to provide against injuries, cuts or punctures to pneumatic tires on vehicles." It provides that "whoever places or causes to be placed in or upon any avenue, street or alley, road, highway or public way any tack, nail, piece of iron, broken glass or other substance which may injure, cut or puncture any pneumatic tire shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $50 nor less than $5."

Another Twist at the Lion's Tail.

Andrew Carnegie has aroused British wrath by saying that it would pay England to burn up her railroad equipment and replace it with American models. Andrew is undoubtedly right, if convenience and comfort of travel is considered. Every American who is not an anglophobe that has ever tested their out-of-date traction and tramway equipment will heartily endorse Andrew.—Exchange.

The Season's Depression.

"This weather is very trying for everybody," said the physician. "Yes," replied Mr. Meekton, "I don't see how my wife is going to bear up under it. When the sun doesn't shine it gives her the blues and when it does she says it's fading the carpet."—Washington Star.
